PARENT WEB ACCESS SITE DISCLAIMER

The Parent Web Access site allows you to access attendance, grades, and meal account information for your child enrolled in the Marshfield R-1 School District. The Marshfield School District reserves the right to pursue through all available legal means any unauthorized access to your child's school information. The Marshfield R-1 School District has made reasonable efforts to keep your child's information secure. However, there are risks inherent in providing you with your child's information through the Parent Access Web Site. The Marshfield R-1 School District has made reasonable efforts to minimize this risk, including data encryption through our server. The Marshfield R-1 School District is not responsible for the unauthorized access to your child's information or for any damages arising from such access. While the Marshfield R-1 School District attempts to insure that information is accurate, users should remember that attendance data is accurate as of the preceding attendance day. Teacher grade books are accurate as of the last entry date. Meal account balances and history are accurate as of the preceding business day. If you have questions about the accuracy of any information displayed through the Parent Web Access site, you should verify the information by calling the school your child attends. By signing this agreement, you agree to the terms set forth in this disclaimer and you agree to release and hold harmless the Marshfield R-1 School District from any damages that may arise out of providing this service to you.

I want to access my child's information through the Parent Web Access site. I agree to the terms of the Parent Web Access Site disclaimer.
